TWO DEATHS REPORTED.

Former Resident of Petersburg Dies in Roanoke.

A telegram from Roanoke announced the death at his home in that city this morning of John T. Whitehead, a native and for many years a resident of Petersburg, where he leaves relatives and many friends. The body will be brought here on Thursday for burial in the family square in Blandford Cemetery. Mr. Whitehead is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Frederick Wheeler and Mrs. Frederick Temple, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Charles Hill, of New York.

William H. Moore, aged about forty years, a well-known citizen of Ettrick, died at his home in that village last night after an illness of one week. For many years Mr. Moore had been employed as miller at Pool's mill, just across Campbell's bridge, and was a capable and trusted man. He is survived by his wife and three children, also by several brothers and sisters.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

Hungarian Partridges and English Pheasants To Be Liberated.

There arrived in the city by express to-day, consigned to William R. McKenney, a lot of Hungarian partridges and English ring-neck pheasants, which Mr. McKenney will tomorrow liberate on his fine farm "Spottiswoode," in Brunswick County. His hope is that the birds will thrive and increase, and finally spread through this section. Mr. McKenney's farm embraces a large area of fields and woods, affording both adequate feeding grounds and protection. These partridges have thriven in other sections of the State and the South, and the experiment will be watched with interest, not only by Mr. McKenney, but by others. The Hungarian partridge is about twice the size of the Virginia partridge, and is a game bird. The ring-neck pheasant is one of the kind that are hunted on the royal preserves in England.

OFFICIAL VISIT.

The visit of the grand officers was an event in the history of the aerie. They were cordially received and entertained at a smoker and at supper at the Chestnut Hotel. Speeches were made by the visiting officers. Before the meeting the visitors were driven about the city in automobiles and shown various points of interest.

DINWIDDIE COUNTY COURT.

Negroes Sentenced to Public Roads and to Penitentiary.

The session of Dinwiddie County Circuit Court was a busy one. Stuart Burnett and Marion Burnett, negroes, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging robbery of an Atlantic Coast Line car, and were given a sentence of two years each at work on the public roads. Joe Ryan, alias John Toben, a white man, pleaded guilty in two cases of robbery of Seaboard Air Line cars. Sentence was suspended until the next term of the court, when he may be needed as a witness against others. John Young, negro, was convicted of highway assault and robbery, and was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary, narrowly escaping the electric chair. On the night of February 8 Young assaulted and stabbed F. W. Kemmer, a Dinwiddie County farmer, on the public road, and robbed him of $40 in money and other personal effects. Among these were a couple of peculiar dice and a piece of tobacco of special brand. These were found in Young's possession when arrested. He was identified by Kemmer, and was mainly instrumental in his conviction. Young acted as his own counsel and fought hard for acquittal.

To-morrow Claude Scott, formerly of Raleigh, will be tried for criminal attack.

WORK TO BEGIN.

Thirty-Room Hotel to Be Built at City Point.

Architect Eaton, of the Du Pont Powder Company, arrived in the city to-day from Wilmington, Del., and will take charge of the construction of the thirty-room hotel, to be erected at City Point by the company, and of the twenty cottages to be erected on the company's grounds near City Point for the occupancy of employees. Meanwhile, Kellher, who was signed by the Petersburg club near the close of the last season, has been sold to the Hartford, Conn., League, providing he makes good.

Hobbs, a promising pitcher at Columbia, N. Y. College, has signed with the local club, and will report at the end of his school term. Mullen, Kreps, Slagle, Leibs, Kline, Barnett, Blackstone and Jackle have sent word that they will report here on time. It seems that Manager Busch will have abundant material from which to select for field positions, as well as for the pitcher and catcher positions. ## DON'T GROW BALD, YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care Of.

It's a safe ten to one bet that the young men who use Parisian Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one. Dandruff germs cause falling hair, and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness. Parisian Sage prevents baldness by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent voracious dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp, it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using Parisian Sage. It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead or any other dangerous ingredients. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald, and from the same cause—the dandruff germ.

Use delightful, refreshing Parisian Sage. It nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to ever user a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottles for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get Parisian Sage.

LIGHT VOTE IN SALISBURY.

Commission Form of Government Loses by Heavy Majority.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Salisbury, N. C., March 18.—A commission form of government, proposed for Salisbury, was voted against by an overwhelming majority to-day. Out of an estimated 1,000 registered voters, 372 voted against the measure and only 7 for it. The measure was defeated by a margin of 365 against the measure out of 1,000 voters. Many leading citizens did not vote.

Office-seekers leaving capital. Find Washington an expensive place while waiting for Plum Tree to shake.

Washington, March 18.—Every train leaving Washington, going in a southerly direction, carries on its lists of passengers many disgruntled and much disappointed office-seekers. Some of these came to Washington just after Christmas, when Congress assembled; others came to the inauguration, and still others have arrived since. They are going home because they have become thoroughly convinced that the national capital is a very expensive place in which to live while waiting for the plum tree to shake.

The home-goers are not from any one State, or from any one section of the country, for that matter, although it is true that for obvious reasons more of them are from the South than elsewhere.

But here is something else the job-hunters recently discovered. They have become convinced that it will do them no good to remain in Washington. Once having placed their interests in the hands of their respective congressmen, there is little else that can now be done. Secretary Bryan will not return to his office for some time from his Western trip, and several of the other Cabinet members expect to be away more or less during the early spring months. Added to this is the friendly advice handed out to the weary waiters by the Congressmen that longer tarrying here would not only be of no avail, but in many cases probably deleterious.

There is much dissatisfaction among some of those who have been disappointed, but this was to be expected. It was never contemplated by those well informed that the new administration would summarily turn off former employees and officeholders to make room for others, but this fact apparently does not suit many of those now turning their faces homeward. Many of them will go back to their people with alluring stories of what they did in the national capital while waiting for something to "turn up," give no doubt, that after all they are at home again. Many appointments are going to be made, but not just now. In time the plum tree will shake for keeps, but that will come with the extra session of Congress.

LECTURE TO SCHOOL.

New York Expert Will Talk Twice Saturday on Dental Hygiene.

Dr. Herbert L. Wheeler, of the New York State Hygienic Committee, will lecture on the subject of dental hygiene to the schools at John Marshall High School Saturday. The lecture is invited to the two lectures by Dr. Wheeler, which will be given at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock at night.

Superintendent Chandler is authority for the statement that 52 per cent of vacant seats in the schoolroom are caused by toothache. Modern students of school hygiene point out how neglected mouths prevent studies and delay the child of knowledge he should have and handicap him in the struggle of life. Crowded protruding upper teeth force breathing through the mouth, with all the ills that follow.

Reckless Driver.

H. E. Jennings was arrested last night by Officers Zimmer, McNamara and Toler on the charge of recklessly driving a car in Capitol Street near the City Hall and running into and damaging a buggy of the City Engineer's Department. Jennings was also charged with being drunk.

DR. FRIEDMANN IS WELL PLEASED

Announces That in Some Cases Improvement Is Almost Marvelous.

SIPES HAS DIFFERENT VIEW

New Mexico Physician Will Advise His Patients Not to Be Treated.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, March 18.—After making an examination of sixteen of the seventeen tuberculosis patients treated by him at the People's Hospital last week, Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann announced to-day that all of the patients had shown marked improvement and that in some cases the improved condition was almost marvelous.

In contrast to this is the announcement made this morning by Dr. Joseph S. Cipes, of New Mexico, who said that after watching the progress made by several of the patients inoculated with the Friedmann serum, he would advise his own patients who came here to receive the Friedmann treatment not to subject themselves to inoculation and that as a delegate from the Albuquerque Commercial Club he would advise that the offer of $500,000 to Dr. Friedmann to visit New Mexico and treat tuberculosis patients be withdrawn.

The physician in charge of the tuberculosis cases at Bellevue Hospital announced to-day that within a few days bulletins giving the condition of the patients treated by Dr. Friedmann would be given to the public so that they might be aware of the true condition of affairs.

Dr. Harry Benjamin, of Berlin, who shares the secret of the turtle serum, and for some time assistant to Dr. Friedmann, created a stir to-day, when he resigned from his position, saying that Dr. Friedmann had failed to keep his promises in regard to money matters. After a hasty conference among the members of the Friedmann party, Dr. Benjamin returned to the fold and said that all had been adjusted to his satisfaction.

Dr. Friedmann will give a clinic to-morrow, at which a number of tuberculosis patients will be inoculated with the serum.

EARLY ENGLISH FURNITURE

By the term Early English may be designated the styles and periods comprising the reigns of English Sovereigns from Elizabeth (1558) to and including William and Mary (1702), about 144 years. This is considered by many the golden period of English art. Articles of furniture became less cumbersome. Tables for the first time became articles of general use. Chairs began to shake off superfluous weight and show suggestions of gracefulness. Ornamentation was used sparingly and only where appropriate. The prevailing styles of this period are designated by historians—Elizabethan, Early Stuart, Jacobean, Cromwellian, Late Stuart or Tudor, William and Mary, the latter introducing the types of Flemish, Flanders and Dutch Renaissance. The present-day designers have evolved from these periods, styles possessing even more dignity and worth than the original period, as related to modern requirement, not blindly reproducing the patterns of those days, but utilizing in a constructive way the column, pediments, carving and moulding of the period, to make them a part of the actual furniture. We are showing some beautiful modified reproductions of these types in our Special Exhibit of Period Furniture. Come in and see them.

SITUATION IN ARMY CRIES FOR REMEDY

Secretary Garrison in Favor of Enlarged Student Body at West Point.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, March 18.—Describing the present situation in the army as one "which literally cries for a remedy," Secretary of War Garrison to-day declared himself in favor of an enlarged student body at West Point and a shorter term of enlistment for privates.

The secretary explained that an enlistment term which would give a soldier an opportunity to return to private life at the end of two years would establish a larger number of trained men throughout the country who could give effective service in time of war. His statement in part follows:

"How it is proposed to provide a fairly efficient way to fill out the skeleton of regular equipment if occasion requires? First, by providing for a reserve of trained officers and men; second, by working up the magnificent material we have in the National ericksburg and Potomac Railroad, was instantly killed yesterday morning at 4:10 o'clock beneath the wheels of a freight train in the local yards. None of the train crew witnessed the accident. His body, horribly mangled, was found on the rails and was removed to the undertaking establishment of A. W. Bennett & Company, where an inquest was held later by Dr. J. F. Bright, coroner of Henrico County.

It has not been determined whether or not the animal was infected, but it was thought best to take no chances.

Mr. Bridgforth was bitten while trying to retrieve an old dog belonging to him, which he had allowed to go at liberty for a time.

Find their foundation in food of to-day.

Scientists have proven that the three vital elements of brain and nerve matter are water, albumen and phosphate of potash.

Water and albumen exist plentifully in everyday food—meat, potatoes, etc., but phosphate of potash is often lacking.

Grape-Nuts

Is the Food of To-Day

Because it is rich in the vital food elements, including the organic phosphate of potash, that valuable mineral element stored by Nature under the outer shell of wheat and barley.

This necessary element is lacking in white bread flour, but faithfully preserved in Grape-Nuts food which supplies true, well-balanced nourishment for body and brain.

Tens of thousands eat their regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream.
